Summary

The original title of this deliverable is “Article for international publications”.

We interpreted it as a collection of papers appearing in international seats, namely proceedings of international conferences and scientific international journals

During the entire project we gave a great attention to the dissemination. In addition, since most of the partners are in the academic area, such kind of publications plays the synergic role of dissemination of the project and promotion of personal careers.

Here below we list these publications in three sections: International Publications, Domestic ones and WEB publications. Actually, given the nature of the project we assumed to be proper mentioning also the last two categories.

Admittedly, we have no a unique publication synthesizing the entire project, rather in the various paper specific aspects are dealt with through an analytic approach that is well received by the scientific community.
