Summary

This document introduces the e-book NETT Entrepreneurship for Teachers

(https://www.dropbox.com/s/j2bg0gg6b8xqbiw/NETT\_Entrepreneurship\_for\_Teachers\_Ebook.pdf?dl=0)

The e-book is collecting the contributions of various European Institutions around the NETT platform and analogous ones within the general thread of ICT supported entrepreneurship education.

Those people got initially gathered in the final conference of the NETT project, held in Gargnano on November 2014. Then a series of links have been maintained between them which gave rise to this e-book containing various kinds of contributions, ranging from ad hoc considerations, to general models, movies and a short document, which we pompously call the “Gargnano Declaration”, where the bases are set for a more organic cooperation in a near future.

In this concrete way, the audience of the NETT platform has been extended to 15 new institutions:

BEST Institut für berufsbezogene Weiterbildung und Personaltraining GmbH, Intrasoft International, Institut Europeen d’Administration des Affaires, ENTREDU, Ellenikogermaniki Agogi, Ss. Cyril and Methodius UNiversity of Skopje, Foundation for Women Entrepreneurs Malta, SIVCO, Universidad Politécnica de Madrid, Faculty of Economy Sofia, University of Siena, Istituto dell’Approccio Centrato sulla Persona (IACP) Milano, Middlesex University- London, JODA Training, UK, TECNALIA, Spain; Knowledge, Innovation and Strategies Management Cl- Bulgaria.

and 9 new countries:

Austria, Belgium, French, Greece, Macedonia, Malta, Romania, Spain, UK.

The platform accounts today more than 2500 registered users. Dissemination activities and social networking on the Facebook and LinkedIn platforms constantly ensure the expansion of its audience.

According to the Grant Agreement, the platform will survive to the NETT project expiration, since an ad hoc startup has been established in Italy between the partners (Social Things srl - <http://www.social-things.eu>) having this task inside its core business.
